

Frustration With Attendance Leaders Not Getting Their List In

1992 or 1993

“Good heavens!” exclaimed Victor. “Where is the Astronomy attendance?”

“I don't know,” mumbled Richard. “But the Archery teacher just shot in here and dropped off his attendance. He was really strung out because Sue Example is missing.”

“Well, I'm about to get stern with the Canoeing teacher, because he forgot to report again.” growled Victor.

“Well, I suppose it was my fault last week that the orienteering list got lost.” confessed Richard. “And that you had to go to the uttermost parts of the earth searching for that missing Missions kid.”

“My Word!” Richard fumed. “Bible class is really late today.”

“And I suppose I'm stuck with visiting crafts again.” moaned Victor.

“And Puppetry! Do we have to do everything for them?!” howled Richard.

“That Cooking class really burns me up!” shrieked Victor. “And that Fishing class is a reel pain!!”

Then Richard and Victor collapsed in a heap and were taken to First Aid class.

“Oh yeah,” said the teacher. “We're all here.”
